To whom it may concern

I am writing to support the legalisation/availability of raw milk products.

I currently have a supply of raw organic cows milk but have to travel an inconvenient distance to obtain it.

My understanding is that the ruling was made initially to protect the public against diseases and seems appropriate for the time and circumstances. However with the knowlege we now have it seems that the consumer could have a (regulated) safe supply of good quality raw milk products and the health benefits which that brings.
