Dear

Please note the change in meeting which is now occurring at 11am, the meeting will take place in office –

At this meeting we would like to consider how some of the newer plant breeding technologies fit into the current frameworks administered by FSANZ and OGTR. Several of the issues are:

- the definitions of gene technology within each of the frameworks and the consequences in terms of these newer technologies,
- options for alignment between the two frameworks and how this might be achieved, and
- consideration of the New Zealand situation around these technologies, which is particularly relevant for food products given the joint food regulatory system that operates between Australia and new Zealand.

Kind regards
