Submission Text:	Dear Sir, I urge the FSANZ to decline this GE corn application as it has a direct impact against the wellbeing and the health of consumers in Australia and New Zealand. Also the affect that this type of crop will have on the declining population of bees will be of importance to the future of the agricultural industry in the future. My recommendation is for the manufacturer to provide data over a three year period of what effect their product has on the environment and on human health. Data should show sampling of crops, soils and a study on the effects of the food on people. Regards
