Subject: Submission on A1193 Irradiation of all fresh fruit and vegetables

I would like to express my concern at the irradiation of fruit and vegetables in Australia as per Application A1193.

I choose to eat my fruit and vegetables in as natural a state as possible to ensure maximum nutritional content. Irradiation actions affect the nutritional quality and content of the fruit/vegetable amongst many other safety concerns. I strongly oppose the application.

Additionally, should this application be approved, the labelling should be clear that the product has been through an irradiation process. It is not adequate to put a friendly looking logo on the product that consumers do not understand.

I have no intention of purchasing irradiated food and this should be clearly labelled on and products that are modified by the irradiation process to ensure myself and other consumers can make an informed decision.

Kind regards,
