I would like to submit my concerns as a consumer, that I may no longer have a choice to purchase raw milk.

I make a personal choice to purchase raw goats milk for my son due to a dairy intolerance. This decision is not taken lightly and I have looked at the benefits, risks and cost of purchasing raw milk. I believe there is a nutritional value in consuming this product in its raw rather than pasteurised state.

I believe, that as consumers, we should be allowed to make these decisions for our own personal consumption.

I request that raw goats milk remain available for public purchase.

Regards

Judy O'Donoghue
