Please don't allow this. GE should be banned in food and environment. Hurrying to make money from unproven GE experimental food is totally unacceptable. (Remember Dolly the sheep?)

There is a health crisis already in NZ; no one knows how much the GE ingredients creeping into our supermarket food (unlabelled) have contributed to this crisis.

The media is busy elsewhere, but the truth remains - GE food is highly risky for human and animal health. The Precautionary Principle should come before considerations of 'The Market' - as if it knows or cares! - where of course in other sectors too, greed is the motivator in the race to beat others to the big profits.

Ban experimental food, PLEASE! That's the right thing to do.

Thank you
