Dear Sirs,

I have a small herd of Jersey cows which in the near future wish to develop into a small milk production unit with possible sales of raw milk and cheese.

It is in the early stages yet but please consider the importance of raw milk in our society and the health implications for especially kids with intolerances to highly processed milk.

Please give local farmers a chance and make a difference on the carbon footprint by making it possible for us to choose to buy or sell local produce that has not traveled so far...

Yours hopefully
