

submissions

---

From: [REDACTED]
Sent: Thursday, 9 October 2014 7:41 AM
To: submissions
Subject: Food Irradiation

Given the proven neurological damage to cats from irradiated food, I strongly object to the irradiation of fruits and vegetables. I understand this is being done to prevent the spread of overseas crop diseases but feel that if irradiation is necessary we should not be importing these products.

Let Australia protect its citizens health and our growers wellbeing by not importing foodstuffs that require irradiation.

Lynne Hogg
[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]