Submission Text:	As a food technologist, previously involved in labeling and compliance for these product types within a previous job role, I agree that FASANZ should approve the application. There is currently no reason why the products mentioned should be classified under the Category 14 beverage, when they are manufactured as a food ingredient. Alignment with Codex requirements in this case will provide a beneficial outcome for importers and provide clear direction to enforcement agencies at import, with no impact to consumers.
