

[REDACTED]

To: [REDACTED]
Subject: submissions
Attachments: Submission re Application A1186: Soy leghemoglobin in meat analogue products
Heme GeneEthics and FoE sub 0220.pdf

Dear FSANZ,

Because FSANZ has full authority to require independent safety assessments for ingredients derived from genetic engineering, particularly those that are new to the human diet and have no established history of safe use such as the GMO-derived SLH, it should not deem Impossible Food's GMO-derived SLH safe for introduction into the Australian and New Zealand food chain, on the basis of inadequate scientific evidence.

FSANZ should decline the Application and the substance should not be approved for sale.

I ask FSANZ to endorse the conclusion reached by Friends of the Earth and GeneEthics in their submission (and re-attached here).

Sincerely,
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

I acknowledge the Dja Dja Wurrung people on whose traditional lands I live and I pay my respect to their Elders, past, present and future. Always was, always will be Aboriginal land.