Dear Sir/Madam,

I strongly object to the mandatory handling of irradiation of fruits and vegetables.

Fruits and vegetables in their natural state are high in vitamins and minerals.

We have all been living healthy lives without them being irradiated. Why do we need to do this now?

I am deeply concerned that you are proposing that we can't buy fruits and vegetables in their natural state (I do eat organic food).

Please do not let this go through for the sake of our future generations and health.
