12. Submission Text: I have researched the health benefits of Hemp seed oil and have chosen to use it as a supplement. Nature has provided us with the Hemnp plant as a rich food source and a source of light breathable fabric. Native people have knew this. Humans have been eating hemp seeds for millennia. Modern humans went one further and developed the plant into a mind altering drug. Humans, driven by greed, then saw the potential to control others and make money and the plant became known only as a source of crime. We need to get back to nature and see the sense of allowing Low THC Hemp as a food source..its true creation. Intelligence knows this has NOTHING to do with illegal drugs.
